

Links to Calf Management Information

We love to promote our own website, www.atticacows.com. For a calf management library of resources click HERE or type in this address:

<http://www.atticacows.com/resources/calf-facts-resource-library.php>

There are 158 (mostly 2-pages long) resources on many, many calf management topics listed in alphabetical order by title. There is also a search box in upper right hand corner if you only know a topic. For example, the most cost effective way to clean nursing bottles and tube feeders.

Also, the most recent 5 years of the calf management newsletter, Calving Ease, are posted as “Calf Management Newsletter.” A recent issue, June 2016 Preventing Navel Infections (click HERE or type in this address:

<http://www.atticacows.com/library/newsletters/CEJune2016.pdf>

If you like to BLOG, you can go to the “Calves with Sam” blog on calf management ideas by clicking HERE or typing in this address:

<http://dairycalfcare.blogspot.com/>

Dr. Jim Quigley maintains a calf management library of 191 resources notes at www.calfnotes.com. He lists by topic (colostrum, weaning, calf starters) and has a search box to find notes by subject.

The University of Wisconsin School of Veterinary Medicine supports a dairy calf resource site that includes helpful checklists and observation forms. Click HERE or type in this address:

<https://www.vetmed.wisc.edu/dms/fapm/fapmtools/calves.htm> A good examples is their “Calf Health Scoring Chart” that I use on all my farm visits.

Other sites? Usually ones from universities and www.extension.org are non-commercial and have reasonably unbiased reports. From United Kingdom, click HERE for another perspective on calf management.

Sam Leadley, Calf & Heifer Management Specialist

sleadley@yahoo.com www.atticacows.com

For Calves with Sam blog go to dairycalfcare.blogspot.com

© Attica Vet. Assoc. 2017 All Rights Reserved.